

We put quality meat and fish in our recipes not only because cats love it but also because it is a great source of natural protein, vitamins and minerals, and by the time we have cooked it in our delicious jelly, it tastes great too! And because she doesn't like eating the same thing everyday we make sure that Whiskas® offers the true variety to keep her coming back for more.

WHISKAS KITTEN POUCHES

At first, your little one will have gotten all she needed from her mother's milk, but soon enough it'll be up to you to make sure she's getting the right balance of nutrients each mealtime.

Kittens need nutrients like vitamin A for eyesight, vitamin E for a shiny coat, calcium for strong bones and teeth, proteins for general growth and lots of calories for energy. So that's exactly what you'll find in a Whiskas® Kitten Pouch.

A healthy, balanced diet couldn't be more important when your little one's just starting out in life. Whiskas® Kitten Dry is the irresistibly crunchy way to make sure she gets everything she needs at mealtimes.

She'll benefit from lots of calcium for growing bones and protein for growing bodies, plus all the natural oils and minerals her body needs to function healthily.
